Dan Gutman has written many funny books for children. This is one of the books in his series My Weird School. A.J. is a second grader of Ella Mentary School and he is the main character in this series. He talks about different people in the series. Each book he introduces one person. He describes how wonderful and funny the person is. This time he tells us about his school bus driver, Mrs. Kormel. Dan has successfully described the story vividly. Readers may feel like they are watching the characters acting in front of them.

The story Mrs. Kormel is Not Normal begins on one Monday morning when A.J. and his friends are riding on the school bus to school. On the way to school, their principal phones Mrs. Kormel to pick up a new school boy, Neil. But he lives very far away and Mrs. Kormel has to find a way to get there. Then some unexpected things happened one after another. First the school bus gets a flat tire, and then Mrs. Kormel is totally lost in the middle of nowhere! All children are driven crazy by her. After solving all the problems, Mrs. Kormel reaches Neil's home but finds that he has already sent to school by his mother. Mrs. Kormel gets crossed as she has already spent many hours to find his house. Eventually, she drives the bus back to school. But, by the time they arrive at school, the school bell rings. And the school day has finished. A.J. says hooray but his friend's response is not the same. Do you know why?

Don't miss the chance to give yourself a good laugh. But make sure you will not fall over your sofa.
